Gene Proves Good as Ever; Tucson Victim

By JERRY

What are you going to do with an "old man," when an old man won't grow old? That is a question that has long bothered San Mateo fans, but Manager M. J. Burke of the San Mateo Blues has never given the matter a second thought, for the reason he knows what should be done, that is "keep him working."

For proof of his judgment look at the performance of Genial Gene Camozzi yesterday afternoon when he beat the Tucson, Ariz., team 7 to 5, and while he was doing it he had twelve of them breezing away at something they could not see.

All Through?

A couple of years ago, according to the wisecracks along B street, Genial Gene was "washed up."

He didn't look much like it yesterday when he pitched one of the best games in his long career here. Looks as though the field manager of the Blues was a long way from being anywhere else but on the hill top.

The Blues had little trouble trimming the Baby Seals yesterday. They took the lead from the start and never were headed.

SAN MATEO 5, RICHMOND 2

The San Mateo Blues made it their twenty-first consecutive win when they defeated the Richmond Samuels, champions of the Three-C League, by the score of 5 to 2, in one of the best games of the season. Camozzi had everything his own way, the entire distance and with errorless support kept the six hits gathered well scattered except in the second inning, when the visitors got to him for three safeties.

Camozzi not only struck out ten of the visitors and scored two of the runs but was the batting hero of the matinee, getting a triple, double and single out of four times up. Johnnie Stoffel, who appears to have struck his stride, gave the same good performance as he did last week, getting three out of five. Every man on the team registered in the hit column and all contributed to the fun getting but Casey.

Locals Tie Old Record of 19 Straight Wins; Osborne Gets Homer

By JERRY.

Before one of the largest crowds that has been in the city park for some weeks past, including in its number scouts from the Pittsburg, Chicago White Sox and Seals, the San Mateo Blues on Sunday afternoon equalled its 1923 record of 19 consecutive games won by defeating the Vallejo outfit 4 to 1. It was a pitchers' battle all the way through with the major honors going to Genial Gene Camozzi who struck out 11, and allowed but six hits, while Conroy struck out 5 and allowed 8 hits. It was a fine game from start to finish, with no dull moments and those fans who went somewhere else to spend the day missed one of the best of the season.
