

Camozzi To Strong for St Ignatius in Afternoon

Camozzi and his southpaw plants was too strong for the St. Ignatius team in the afternoon, and the Granat Brothers won, 5 to 2. Casey came up with the bases loaded in the second inning and like the more famous Casey of long ago, he struck out. But the Casey who fanned yesterday took his third swing at a wild pitch, and Ignatius until the ninth when Dut. Rock batted the second when Dut. Rock batted the second in the fourth inning when the Granat boys took full advantage of the boots of Mayrose, the fat shortstop, and scored for runs. Dutch Rock stopped the scoring, but the game was already lost. Something must be wrong with the judgment of the manager of the Swift team. He had Fonseca, the best second baseman in the league, sitting on the bench, and when Rose was having his troubles, he put McQuinn in at second and let Fonseca stay on the bench. That's poor management. Scores:

FEW PLAYERS WILL LINE UP WITH LOCAL TEAM

When the New Ergs line up against the Sperrys at Dingee Field tomorrow Camozzi and Pratt will be on the points for the locals. Henning will be on the mound for the visitors and Davis will do the receiving. There will be several changes in the lineup of the locals made necessary by the absence of Jennings who is suffering from a Charley horse. The versatile Tom Casey will hold down the first bag and Pratt will take his place behind the bat. Redwood's outfield will be cared for by Herm, Fitzpatrick and Ritchie. Ritchie is well known to local fans having played here on several visiting teams. Last Sunday he played with the National Unions. Timmie O'Keefe, who electrified last Sunday by his work at short, will be there again tomorrow, and the third corner will be held down by Stevens. Green of Palo Alto, touted as a player of class by Stevens and Pratt, will hold down the keystone bag.

OAK BUSHERS CANTER AWAY WITH PENNANT

After Losing Morning Game, Transbay Tossers Come Back and Wallop the Granats.

By WILLIAM J. SLATTERY

THE Oakland All Stars earned the right to sport the bush ball championship when they defeated the Granat Brothers Club of San Francisco, 6 to 1, at Recreation Park yesterday afternoon. The victory was the third out of four games played. The Granats blanked the Oaklanders, 3 to 0, at Oakland in the morning.

The clean cut win of the transbay tossers did not stir up any surprise among the fans who watched the series closely. The lads from over the water displayed their class in every department of the game. They had the goods which they delivered properly. Gene Camozzi, the little southpaw, who won the Midwinter league flag for the Granats by pitching two victories in a row a few weeks ago, tried to repeat yesterday. He got off to a good start when he whiffed the Oaks in the morning, but he had nothing left for the afternoon and faded away in the fifth spasm.

A double by Starasnich and a single by Mitchell gave the visitors their start in the second round of the afternoon battle. They proceeded to muss things up generally in the next period. After Zifer smashed one to left, Christensen doubled to center and they both trotted in when Silva drove a fast one through second.

Camozzi deliberately walked out of the box in the fifth when the Oaks began to renew their attacks. Bill Farber finished the game and held his opponents to two scattered hits. Caldera heaved regular ball for the transbay crew and the Granats were lucky to score in the ninth. Scores:

KEATING, MORTON WINNING HURLERS

Tom Keating, twirling for the Union Iron Workers, was too much for the Kenelly Seals, and Hargy Morton, pitching for the Sperry Flours, was too much for the Granat Bros., in the Midwinter league yesterday. The scores of both games were the same, 3 to 0. Keating held the Seals to four hits, while Morton only allowed six. "Lefty" Simpson and Vic Dobbs worked for the Seals, and Gene Camozzi hurled for the Granat Bros. The latter twirled a fine game, not allowing an earned run, but his support was very bad in the pinches.

JEWELERS WIN TWICE AN ANNEX ONE 'THOU'

By WILLIAM J. SLATTERY

THE Seals' Midwinter League passed out of the baseball picture yesterday at Recreation Park when the Granat Brothers' team swung in with a rish and twice laid low the Mayrose Butters club, 9 to 7 and 3 to 2. The winners will divide a $1,000 bankroll, the gift of the San Francisco Baseball Club.

There was plenty of league ball as well as a fair sprinkling of the bush variety that always lurks on the sandlots. But the old fighting spirit was there every second of the time. More than 10,000 came to shout and yell for the performers. The Granats were not supposed to have the class or the pep of their opponents and the wise depositors had the flag all wrapped up and the spoils in the sack for the butter boys.

The real main event of the day was Eugene Camozzi, stocky, left-handed hurler from North Beach. CAMOZZI DELIVERS. Camozzi stepped on the slab in time to pull the first game out of the fire for the Granats. His boss suggested that he let it go at that, but the grandson of Sunny Italy insisted on starting again. "I ran 'em ragged, didn't I?" said Gene to his boss. "Well, let me alone now and I'll knock 'em all dead next time."

At times Camozzi looked to be weakening and the Granat rooters yelled for another pitcher. Two relief men were warming up a chance start, but they never got a chance to go to work. Camozzi always pulled out of the tight holes. He even had the breaks with him.

With the score one-all in the sixth the Granats went for a pair of flies, practically breaking it up. Corrigan singled, Fonseca doubled and both arrived on Swan's Texas leaguer to the right garden. The Mayroses were dangerous in the round seven. They hammered the North Beach portlander for three resounding homers, but had base-running was fatal and only one tally showed. They did not figure again. ONE A SLUGGEST.

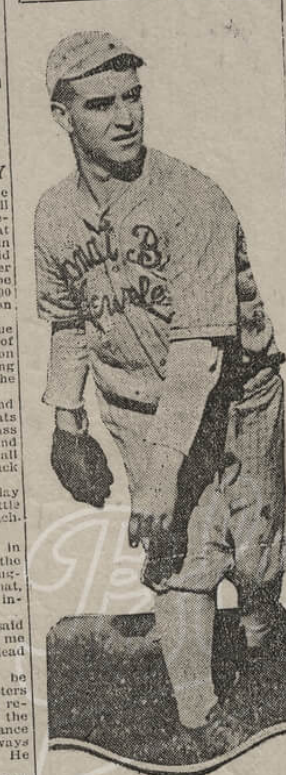

The first game was a slugfest and all the pitchers suffered. Al Quade and Ludolph had been chased from the slab. Camozzi came to the rescue in the fifth. He, too, was roughly handled for a while, but he kept on fighting and was rewarded.

IN LINE FOR A KISS

THAT is to say in France they kiss heroes like this boy. Gene Camozzi, left-handed pitcher, "rock-rolled" the Granats into $1,000 and the mid-winter championship yesterday. And he was the winning curveter in the double-decked victory that turned the trick.

On the other hand, it didn't take Howard Derringer long to yank Kerr in the eighth at the first signs of distress. Kerr had filled the bases on passes and forced in a run on the fourth tick. That was all for Derringer. The Tots are not overly supplied with effective pitching talent, but Derringer took a long chance and sent in Jean Camozzi, the victim of that eight-run slaughter in the eighth inning of Saturday's rout.

Camozzi Saves Game. Jean got away to a poor start. It was a tough hole for any pitcher, facing a batter with the bases loaded and complimentary. He passed the first batter, forcing in another run. A sacrifice fly scored another, but the Islanders couldn't hit his freak left-hand curve ball delivery from then until the last man had been retired.

There are pitching situations that should be studied with the utmost concentration. When a pitcher is going bad he has no right to remain in the box and contribute to an increasing lead. It might cost a run or two, as it did the Tots yesterday, but when Derringer yanked Kerr he saved the game. The bases were loaded twice with Kerr pitching. One solid smack would have polished them all off and won for Rock Island.

Seals vs Granats

Keneally Seals and Granat Bros. play the morning game. The "Jewelry Boys" had an off day last Sunday, not playing their game by any means. They can play fine ball, however, and all indications point to them giving the Seals a real battle. Vic Dobbs, who returned from Camp Lewis last Saturday, will twirl for the Seals, opposing either Gene Camozzi or Al Pierotti. The latter and Mgr. Farley have patched up their differences. It is said.
