PECT HURLING DUEL

Ken Kelly, who is expected to develop into a mound marvel with McGraw's New York Giants, and who has been the outstanding pitcher of the league, will pitch for the Butter Boys. Walter Johnson didn't take his place tomorrow, only because Walter couldn't do more than Kelly for the past month or more. Kelly is a pretty much like the usual Washington wonder does. Kelly is easily the best pitcher in the league, likely will win Kelly. He fanned 12 Butter Boys last Sunday and looked especially good. However, the Butter Boys have three other pitchers—Harber, Ludolph and Lay—and chances one of them will draw assignment against Kelly. So as the Butter Boys are concerned they wouldn't worry much for Eller were slated to oppose him.

NEUPS ARE STRONG

Both teams will have the strong lineups that have taken the lead in the Seals' league, as follows: Granats—McKnew, cf; Corrigan, Bertram, rf; Mooney, lf; Burns, Fonseca, 2b; Baker, ss; Casey Ratto, c, and Camozzi, Lay, ber and Ludolph, p.

GRANATS AND NEWBAUERS PLAY SUNDAY

Fast Games Scheduled for Winter League Fans in Both Divisions.

NOW that Judge Kenecy Mountain Landis has put the official "No" on Herbie Hunter's All-Star Pilgrimage playing the San Francisco Police Department team, the San Francisco Mid-Winter League schedule will be played Sunday just as though Hunter's gang were not in the limelight.

It is with regret that the Winter performers could not show their wares to the local fandom, against such celebrities, but such is fate. For the major attraction at Recreation Park, the J. H. Newbauers and the Granat Bros. meet for what might knock the grocers out of their chance for the American League pennant. Camozzi, who is the leading pitcher in the League, will oppose the league leaders on the mound and the dopesters have figured that the J. H. N.'s are due for a trimming. Hap Kennedy, manager of the Newbauers, will use either Roy Bliss or La Cloustra to stop the jewelers.

San Leandro the leaders in the pennant race for the Alameda County League championship have a unique record this season. They have knocked out of the box every pitcher who has started against them with the exception of "Short" Curran, and that failed 14 runs of his delivery, although he finished the game. A great burning battery of "Pat" (Pat) Camozzi and Tom ("Speed") Dwyer have been giving great runs. The fans of San Leandro have hung up a prize for the special race between the battery mates prior to the final game of the season. The odds are on "Pat" Dwyer to win. He will be rewarded as the third man in the class.
