SAN MATEO NINE DEFEATS PADRES

State League Champions Put Over 4 to 2 Victory in Close Struggle on Peninsula Field

SAN MATEO showed its State League championship caliber yesterday on the Peninsula diamond when they defeated Gene Valla's Santa Cruz Padres, 4 to 2. The contest was a nip and tuck affair from the start and the outcome was in doubt until Catcher Johnson mitted Valla's foul fly to end the struggle.

The winners greeted Valla with three singles and a double when he took the mound, and pushed over two runs. The visitors from the seaside scored on a walk and Moore's single.

The Blues put over two more in the fourth on a pair of singles and a double. Valla's outfit made their last tally in the seventh.

Garry starred for the Blues both at bat and in the field, while Bing Bodle played a nice game for the Padres.

SEPTEMBER 16, 1929

While the Spalding All-Stars offered a bad defeat at the hands of the San Mateo Blues yesterday, they are no tramp ball team, and there are players in the lineup they presented yesterday that would look good in any independent ball club. With Camozzi pitching for Stanton Mateo, almost any team that comes here looks bad. Not that they are bad ball clubs, but Camozzi makes them look bad.

Cammozzi to Hurl Today For Granats

GENE CAMMOZZI will pitch for the Granat's this afternoon at Recreation Park against Marty Griffin for the Berrios Auto Painters in the main attraction of the San Francisco Mid Winter League. With these two hurlers on the mound the fans are due for a real pitching duel. Gene has been left-handing the opposing teams into submission all season and Griffin, who was with the Seals the latter part of the Coast League season humbled the lowly Oaks in the only game he pitched. Last Sunday he took the box as relief man and held the Foresters scoreless and came out on the long end of the score.

For the noon game the Sunset Federals and the Kenealy Seals are scheduled to put on a battle royal. The Feds are now in second place but only by a very narrow margin, with the Foresters and the Seals right on their trail. The Feds have the hardest schedule of any of the teams who have a chance to get into the final series. Kenealy will bring Jimmy McNamara down from Martinez to do the pitching for his squad for should the Seals lose they will then be out of the race. Lefty Cronin, another Seal baby will be the Feds moundsman.

The opening game of the day will be played at 10:30 with the Foresters and the Levi Strauss aggregations meeting. Pete's club is just a few notches in back of second place and a win will put them in a mighty nice position to get into that final series which is but a few weeks away. Gene Hollister will be Pete's hurler and Jole Hanlon for the Strausses.

Burlingame will have the pleasure of witnessing the Barbarians and the J. H. Newbauers at 2 o'clock. The J. H. N's also have a possible chance to get into the series, so it can be readily seen that the pennant race this season is far tighter than the race has ever been. Binet will pitch for the Grocers and Tewell for the fighting Barbs.

Fred McWilliams and Syd Desmond will umpire the 12:30 and 2:30 games at Recreation Park with Jack Hanley and Frank Syce taking the morning game and the game on the peninsula.

St. Mary's split the week-end games, losing to the Kennealy Seals by a 1 to 0 count, Saturday, and shutting out the McCormick All Stars Sunday, 3 to 0, thereby wiping out the defeat that the latter club held over them in the earlier part of the season. Saturday's game was a corker. Ludolph worked against Cammozi. It was Cammozi's first start in three months, and he certainly looked great. Fonseca scored the only run on his hit, a stolen base, and Offer's single. Rose, in center, and Red Rooney, in left, robbed the Kennealy players of four hits through sensational catches. Schnell pitched against Howedge Sunday and allowed three hits. Howedge allowed four.

All-Veteran Team Is Collected by Hollister Manager

Ernie Thurber, manager of the Hollister baseball team in the Mission League, has signed up his entire championship aggregation of last year, with the exception of one outfielder. His latest addition of Gene Camozzi, the great southpaw, coupled with Floyd Brown, will give him the class of the league in the pitching department.

Petaluma won handily from Napa Sunday by a 7 to 3 score. Frank Larney made his initial appearance behind the plate for Petaluma, and besides catching a fine game came through with a hit in the pinch. Pat Boben was on the mound for the losers, while Gene Cammozzi held the Napa sluggers at his mercy.

Camozzi stole the only base of the game, going down in the ninth with Casey on third. It did away with all chances for a double play and was a smart stunt.

Crystals, 3; Stocklers, 2.

BLUES FACE TOUGH DENTIST NINE IN SECOND GAME SUNDAY

The San Mateo Blues baseball nine will have to be at their best this Sunday when they tackle the powerful Dr. Orwitz' Dentist nine here on the city park diamond, according to advance word from San Francisco telling of the good doctor's team.

Though San Mateo's veteran mound star, Walt Lister, was not bearing down in his first game of the season last Sunday, he received good support from his teammates, and was thus enabled to come through with a win, but he will have to pitch some very fine ball his second time out if the Blues are to win again.

Kids Must Pay

The directors of the Blues have been in the habit of admitting youngsters to the grandstand free of charge. Chester Newbert announced today that that policy would not be carried out any longer. The kids must pay the tenth part of a dollar to get in the grandstand, though they may, if they wish, sit in the bleachers free of charge.

The reason for this change is the fact that patrons last Sunday kicked because of the way the children were running around during the game, and generally getting in everyone's way.

Camozzi Selects Lineup

Manager Gene Camozzi will start the same lineup against the dentists which took the field in the opener. This will find Lister on the mound, with Joe Bogle, formerly of the San Bruno-Tanforan nine, behind the mask. On first will be the ageless Hal Stoeven, who almost became embroiled in a free-for-all last Sunday.

Holding down the keystone sack will be Hubert Nielsen, who has been making a very fine job of it these past few years. Next to Nielsen at shortstop will be Ray Viani. These two boys, between them, did some very nice work against the Service nine.

Goudy or Silva

Either Hank Goudy or Don Silva will decorate the hot corner. The choice as to who will start is up to Gene Camozzi, though both will most likely see action before the day ends.

In the outgardens will be last Sunday's same trio of Harold Bletheen, Burlingame school teacher, in left field; Clarence Switzer in center field, and Johnny Tadevich at right field.

Drury Hatters Will Play Granats Again

The semi-pro baseball championship of San Francisco may be decided next Sunday afternoon at Ewing Field when the Drury Hatters meet the Granats in the second game of their three-game series. The Drurys won the first game, 3 to 1, and another victory gives them the title. Should the Granats win, the third game will be played at a later date.

Tom Keating, veteran semi-pro pitcher of the Drurys, will again oppose Gene Cammozzi, the star left hander of the Granats.

George Hildebrand, American League umpire, has been signed up by President Jim Nealon of the Midwinter League, and will officiate at next Sunday's game. In last Sunday's game Hilde seemed to satisfy both sides.

More than 4000 fans attended last Sunday's game and an even greater crowd is expected at the second game.

NORTH BEACH FEDERALS 7, HUNDS 3

The North Beach Feds defeated the Hunds at Kentfield, 7 to 3. The feature was the hitting of McDonald, who netted two home runs. Score:

North Beach Federals	7	8	0

APRIL 14, 1937

Presenting Gene Camozzi, genial new manager of the San Mateo Blues, Gene won his opener last Sunday and is expecting to repeat the win over the Dr. Orwitz Dentists this Sunday. Camozzi has had quite a bit of previous experience with the San Mateo nine, having pitched for the team for some fifteen years before taking over the reins.

GRANATS BEAT HATTERS BY 8-1 SCORE

By Max Kofsky

THE Granat Brothers annexed the second game of the three-game series that is to decide who shall play the Alameda Merchants, the Post-Enquirer champs, for the Northern California semi-pro title, by taking the Drury Hatters down the line for a 8-1 beating. The Hatters won the first tussle, so both nines will play again April 6 at Ewing Field.

Gene Camozzi, the Granat pitcher, twirled unbeatable ball and if Ollie Burns, who covered the keystone sack, had not erred in the 5th inning Gene would have been credited with a shut-out. The Granats opened hostilities in the second inning when they found Keating for three runs and two hits. They continued their attack in the third when they crossed the plate on one hit aided by Willie Rose who booted.

The largest crowd of the season watched the Hatters and Granats perform, more than seven thousand fans passing through the gates. During fielding practice they were supplied with music furnished by the officials of the San Francisco Winter League.

The summary:	R.	H.	E.
Granat Brothers	8	6	2
Drury Hatters	1	3	3

Batteries: Camozzi and Llewellyn; Keating and Dorman.

Umpire on balls and strikes, Hildebrand; on bases, Sweeney.

San Rafael's ambition toward the acquisition of the A. G. Spalding & Bros.' cup, and also its undefeated record, was stopped by Jean Camozzi in a recent game in a manner which left no doubt in the mind of the Peninsula fans that the San Mateo team has all the qualifications to carry it through a successful season.
